Randomized Double-blind controlled trial ...

... http://www.lumrix.net/medical/epidemiology/randomized_controlled_trial.html .

In a double-blind trial, one researcher allocates a series of numbers to 'new treatment' or 'old treatment'. The second researcher is told the numbers, but not what they have been allocated to. Since the second researcher does not know, they cannot possibly tell the patient, directly or otherwise, and cannot give in to patient pressure to give them the new treatment. In this system, there is also often a more realistic distribution of sexes and ages of patients. Therefore double-blind (or randomized) trials are preferred, as they tend to give the most accurate results.

7 Principles of the Nuremberg Tribunal, 1950 ... <http://www.icrc.org/ihl.nsf/FULL/390?OpenDocument> ...
7 Principles of International Law -- Recognized in the Charter of the Nuremberg Tribunal & in the Judgment of the Tribunal

Principle 2 The fact that internal law does not impose a penalty for an act which constitutes a crime under international law does not relieve the person who committed the act from responsibility under international law.

Principle 3 fact that a person who committed an act which constitutes a crime under international law acted as Head of State or responsible Government official does not relieve him from responsibility under international law

Principle 6 The crimes hereinafter set out are punishable as crimes under international law:

c.) Crimes against humanity:

Murder, extermination, enslavement, deportation and other inhuman acts done against any civilian population, or persecutions on political, racial or religious grounds, when such acts are done or such persecutions are carried on in execution of or in connection with any crime against peace or any war crime.

Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948 ... <http://www.un.org/en/documents/udhr/#atop> .

Article 3

Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person.

Security of Person ... <http://www.beyondintractability.org/essay/security/> .

On the individual level, security is most often understood as safety. This safety includes freedom from harm, whether physical or psychological. Threats to an individual's security can produce the fear or anxiety mentioned above. The United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights states that all people are entitled to “security of person”. This declaration reinforces the concept of freedom from physical and psychological harm. Yet, what measures will be taken to protect an individual from harm? The most common forms of protection are legal structures that protect individuals from threats to their security. These include, but are not limited to, laws against murder, sex crimes, bodily harm, theft, psychological harm such as coercion. (Coercion definition below)

The Convention on the Rights of the Child, (Nov. 20, 1989) ... <http://www2.ohchr.org/english/law/crc.htm> .

... <http://www.unicef.org/crc/> .

Built on varied legal systems and cultural traditions, the Convention is a universally agreed set of non-negotiable standards and obligations. These basic standards—also called human rights—set minimum entitlements and freedoms that should be respected by governments.

These standards are both interdependent and indivisible.

Spells out the 3 basic human rights that children everywhere have: 1.) the right to survival; 2.) to develop to the fullest; 3.) to protection from harmful influences, abuse and exploitation; 4.) and to participate fully in family, cultural and social life.

The 4 core principles of the Convention are A.) non-discrimination; B.) devotion to the best interests of the child; C.) the right to life, survival and development; and D.) respect for the views of the child.

Article 13

1. The child shall have the right to freedom of expression; this right shall include freedom to seek, receive and impart information and ideas of all kinds, regardless of frontiers, either orally, in writing or in print, in the form of art, or through any other media of the child's choice.

Article 17

States Parties recognize the important function performed by the mass media and shall ensure that the child has access to information and material from a diversity of national and international sources, especially those aimed at the promotion of his or her social, spiritual and moral well-being and physical and mental health. To this end, States Parties shall:

- (a) Encourage the mass media to disseminate information and material of social and cultural benefit to the child and in accordance with the spirit of Article 29;
- (b) Encourage international co-operation in the production, exchange and dissemination of such information and material from a diversity of cultural, national and international sources;
- (c) Encourage the development of appropriate guidelines for the protection of the child from information and material injurious to his or her well-being, bearing in mind the provisions of Articles 13 and 18.

Article 27

1. States Parties recognize the right of every child to a standard of living adequate for the child's physical, mental, spiritual, moral and social development.

- ★ 1. States Parties shall take all appropriate legislative, administrative, social and educational measures to protect the child from all forms of physical or mental violence, injury or abuse, neglect or negligent treatment, maltreatment (harm, injury, hurt, violation), or exploitation, including sexual abuse, while in the care of parent(s), legal guardian(s) or any other person who has the care of the child.
- 2. Such protective measures should, as appropriate, include effective procedures for the establishment of social programmes to provide necessary support for the child and for those who have the care of the child, as well as for other forms of prevention and for identification, reporting, referral, investigation, treatment and follow-up of instances of child maltreatment described heretofore, and, as appropriate, for judicial involvement.

Consent ... <http://www.businessdictionary.com/definition/consent.html> ...

Express or implied approval, or voluntary agreement, compliance, or permission for some act, decision, or purpose. Consent obtained through coercion, fraud, or undue influence is invalid.

Columbia Encyclopedia: Coercion Electronic Edition, Copyright © 2004

Coercion ... <http://www.answers.com/topic/coercion> ...

coercion, in law, the unlawful act of compelling a person to do, or to abstain from doing, something by depriving him of the exercise of his free will, particularly by use or threat of physical or moral force. In many states of the United States, statutes declare a person guilty of a misdemeanor if he, by violence or injury to another's person, family, or property, or by depriving him of his clothing or any tool or implement, or by intimidating him with threat of force, compels that other to perform some act that the other is not legally bound to perform. Coercion may involve other crimes, such as assault. In the law of contracts, the use of unfair persuasion to procure an agreement is known as duress; such a contract is void unless later ratified. At common law, one who commits a crime under coercion may be excused if he can show that the danger of death or great bodily harm was present and imminent. However, coercion is not a defense for the murder or attempted murder of an innocent third party.

“... All Truth Passes Through 3 phases: first it is ridiculed; next it is violently opposed; and finally it is accepted as self evident ...”, by the German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer.

Einstein said, “... the world is a dangerous place to live in, not because of the people who are evil, but because of the people who don't do anything about it ...”.

Why The Swine Flu Vaccine and Vaccines Are illegal Under International Law

. http://www.mayanmajix.com/Swine_Flu_Vaccine_And_Vaccines_Are_Illegal.pdf .

The Precautionary Principle ... <http://www.sdearthtimes.com/et0398/et0398s4.html> .

... the experiment should be so conducted as to avoid all unnecessary physical and mental suffering and injury.

Thus, as formulated here, The Principle of Precautionary action has 4 parts:

1. People have a duty to take anticipatory action to prevent harm. (As one participant at the Wingspread meeting summarized the essence of the precautionary principle, "If you have a reasonable suspicion that something bad might be going to happen, you have an obligation to try to stop it.")
2. The burden of proof of harmlessness of a new technology, process, activity, or chemical lies with the proponents, not with the general public.
3. Before using a new technology, process, or chemical, or starting a new activity, people have an obligation to examine "a full range of alternatives" including the alternative of doing nothing.
4. Decisions applying the precautionary principle must be "open, informed, and democratic" and "must include affected parties."

The Precautionary Principle is not really new. The essence of the principle is captured in common-sense aphorisms such as "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," "Better safe than sorry," and "Look before you leap." However, environmental policy in the United States and Europe for the past 70 years has been guided by entirely different principles perhaps best reflected in the aphorisms, "Nothing ventured, nothing gained" and, "Let the devil take the hindmost."

★★★ Vaccines Reduce Natural Immunity - Dr. Mark's Blog ... May 4, 2010 ... <http://blog.imva.info/?p=227> ...

If T helper cells and other similar types of immune cells have their activity reduced by vaccines -- then we have a stupendous medical disaster on our hands and that is exactly what we have.

An old medical acquaintance of mine Dr. Harold E. Buttram wrote many years ago about a little-noted letter-to-the editor in the New England Journal of Medicine, in 1984, about an interesting German study. In the study, a significant though temporary drop of T-helper lymphocytes was found in 11 healthy adults following routine tetanus booster vaccinations. "Special concern rests in the fact that, in 4 of the subjects, the T-helper lymphocytes fell to levels seen in active AIDS patients. The implications of this study are enormous. In regards to this German study, if this was the result of a single vaccine in healthy adults, it is sobering to think of the possible consequences of multiple vaccines (18 vaccines within the first 6 months of life at latest count) given to infants with their immature and vulnerable immune systems," wrote Buttram

- The lead author of a key study used by EU and USA health bodies as evidence mercury in vaccines does not cause autism has vanished after it emerged that he fraudulently claimed 10 million crowns in funds from his university in Denmark.
- The researcher – who appears to be Keersten Meldgaard Madsen, resident in Højbjerg, outside Aarhus – was also employed by Emory University, Atlanta, without the knowledge of his university, according to the Danish media.
- The key study has come under criticism for evidence that data has been manipulated to bolster the pro vaccine cause.
- The fraud involving 10 million crowns raises the issue of whether money flowing to the Danish researcher from the CDC was a reward for manipulating study results.

Thus, your immune system offers you lifetime immunity from the chicken pox.

The vaccine industry false tries to claim its vaccines work exactly the same way: They cause the body to produce antibodies against a certain viral strain. But there's something you're not being told about vaccines: They don't really produce the same quality and strength of antibodies that your own body would produce from a natural infection and recovery. That's why the vaccines "wear off" and leave you with zero protection from the very strains they inoculate you against.

The Heart Has No Reasons, It Knows Without Reasoning.

. http://www.mayanmajix.com/heart.html .

Written In Memory of Princess Diana and Mother Teresa.

Sept. 1997

When all is said and done, when you come to the end of your life, I don't want to know what the world said or what your worldly mind has learned to define as successful, or what rules or customs you were brought up with and felt you had to follow in order to justify what you did or didn't do to others or for others. What I really want to know is, Do you know how to really not know ?? Can you realize your own ignorance while you profess and assert your worldly knowledge to others ?? I want to know if you have learned what it means to think with and through your Heart, to know the difference between looking with your eyes and seeing with and through your Heart, and to not only be able to hear with your ears but to also be able to listen with and through your Heart. Have you learned and experienced the difference between feeling with your hands and feeling with and through your Heart ?? Are you able to touch others Hearts with your Heart ??

I don't want to know what facts you have learned throughout your life on earth, but I do want to know if you know what it means by the saying, "The  Heart has no reasons, it knows without reasoning". Have you learned how to know with and through your  Heart ... FIRST, and then act accordingly ?? I want to know if you can do the "Right Thing", even if it means challenging the authority figures and rules of the day, and then do it again, and again ?? What I really want to know is, are you strong enough, and do you have the courage to follow Socrates, (469 - 399 BC), example of "... Examining your thoughts, statements and actions by pursuing their implications, on the assumption that if they are true, they would not lead to false consequences ..." ?? I want to know that after you have struggled to climb, to ascend, to the top of the mountain, will you willingly and Joyfully and  Lovingly come back down to be with and to help those who have not climbed the mountain ?? If you can, then you have been able to touch the  Heart and  Love of God with your  Heart, with your thoughts, and with what you have said and done with your life on earth ... this time ... and then each time hereafter.

Anonymous (Gerald Hernesmaa, 1997)

P.S. The  Heart has no reasons, it knows without reasoning, because the  Heart understands and knows in ways that reason does not understand & can not verify, so, the  Heart has it reasons that reason does not know.

Einstein Said, "... The world is a dangerous place to live in, not because of the people who are evil, but because of the people who don't do anything about it ...".

"Ethics" ... n. pl., 1.) The Principles of morality, including both the science of the good and the science of right.

Belief: A subjective condition that is a conviction of the truth of a proposition, induced into existence within the mind. (Note: that belief does not involve truth, but only the conviction of it).

Conflict of Interest: Term used in connection with public officials, fiduciaries and their relationship to matters of private interest or gain to them; a clash between public interest and the private pecuniary interest of the individual or individuals concerned; a conflict of interest arise when a person's personal or financial interest conflicts or appears to conflict with his official responsibility. 18 U.S.C.A. §203 et seq. Examples: An FDA official takes a job with a company producing a product over whom he has had regulatory influence; a company official takes a job at the FDA where he or she is in a position to rule over products created by his former employer or extensions of products or processes thereof.

Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade: All forms of illegal agreements which have as their object interference with free flow of commerce and trade.

Suppressio Veri, Expressio Falsi: Suppression of the truth is equivalent to expression or suggestion of what is false.

Truth: That which is conformable to the actual state of things. (Note: not subjective)

Fact: Reality of events or things the actual occurrence or existence of which is to be determined by evidence. An actual happening in time and space or a mental or physical event.

Fraud: An intentional perversion of the truth for the purpose of inducing another in reliance upon it to part with some valuable thing or to surrender a legal right; a false representation of a matter of fact, whether by words or conduct, by false or misleading allegations, or by concealment of that which should have been disclosed, which deceives and is intended to deceive another so that he shall act upon it to his legal inquiry; anything calculated to deceive, whether by a single act or combination, or by suppression of truth, or suggestion of what is false, whether it be by direct falsehood or innuendo, by speech or silence, word of mouth, or look or gesture; fraud comprises all acts, omissions, and concealments involving a branch of legal or equitable duty and resulting in damage to another.

Fraudulent Concealment: The hiding or suppression of a material fact or circumstance which the party is legally or morally bound to disclose, in order to prevent inquiry, escape investigation, or to mislead or hinder the acquisition of information disclosing a right of action.

Fraudulent Intent: Such intent exists where one, either with a view of benefiting oneself or misleading another into a course of action, makes a representation which one knows to be false or which one does not believe to be true.

Deceit: A fraudulent and deceptive misrepresentation, artifice, or device, used by one or more persons to deceive and trick another, who is ignorant of the true facts.

Misrepresentation: Any manifestation by words or other conduct not in accordance with the facts; an untrue statement of fact; an incorrect or false representation which, if accepted, leads the mind to an apprehension of a condition other and different from that which exists.

Proof: The result or effect of evidence, the means by which a fact is proven.

Positive Proof: That which establishes the fact in question, as opposed to negative proof, which establishes the fact by showing that its opposite is not or cannot be true.

Informed Consent: A person's agreement to allow something to happen, based on full disclosure of the facts needed to make the decision intelligently; i.e., knowledge of risks involved, alternatives, etc.; the general principle of law embodying the duty to disclose to another whatever risks might be incurred from a proposed course of treatment, so that a person, exercising ordinary care for his own welfare, and faced with a choice of undergoing the proposed treatment, or alternative treatment, or none at all, may intelligently exercise his judgment by reasonably balancing the probable or possible risks against the probable or possible benefits.

Convincing Proof: Such as is sufficient to establish the proposition beyond reasonable doubt in an unprejudiced mind. (Note: a mind is not unprejudiced where a belief already exists).

(Keep the following in mind relative to those entities who herein control and manipulate others):

Criminal Conspiracy: A combination or confederation between two or more persons, formed for the purpose of committing, by their joint efforts, some unlawful or criminal act, or some act which is lawful in itself, but becomes unlawful when done by the concerted action of the conspirators, or for the purpose of using criminal or unlawful means to the commission of an act not in itself unlawful. A person is guilty of conspiracy if that person agrees to aid other persons in the planning or commission of such crime, or of an attempt or solicitation of such a crime. A conspiracy may be a continuing one; actors may drop out, and others drop in; the details of operation may change from time to time; the members need not know each other or the part played by others; a member need not know all the details of the plan or the operation; he must, however, know the purpose of the conspiracy and agree to become a party to a plan to effectuate that purpose. A chain-conspiracy is characterized by different activities carried on with the same subject of conspiracy in chain-like manner that each conspirator in chain-like manner performs a separate function which serves in the accomplishment of the overall conspiracy. A civil conspiracy is a concert or combination to defraud or cause other injury to person or property, which results in damage to the person or property. Conspiracy in restraint of trade describes all forms of illegal agreements such as boycotts, price-fixing, etc., which have as their object interference with the free flow of commerce and trade. One cannot agree or conspire with another who does not agree or conspire with him.

Color of Law: Misuse of power, possessed by virtue of law, and made possible only because the wrongdoer is clothed with authority of State. Misuse of power by an official because the person is an official. Unlawful acts under color of law would not have occurred but for the fact that the person committing them was an official then, and there exercising power outside the bounds of lawful authority.

Color of Office: Pretense of official right to do an act made by one has no such right conferred by any authority.

Criminal Gross Negligence: Negligence that is accompanied by acts of commission, or omission of a wanton or willful nature, showing a reckless or indifferent disregard of the rights of others, under circumstances reasonably calculated to produce injury, or which make it probable that injury will be occasioned, and the offender knows or is charged with knowledge of the probable results of his acts.

Criminal Behavior: Conduct which causes any social harm which is defined and made punishable by law, presuming the law exists which covers the action.

Quasi Crimes: All offenses not crimes or misdemeanors, but that are in the nature of crimes; a class of offenses against the public which have not been declared crimes, but wrongs against the general or local public which should be punished by penalties.

Criminal Homicide: Criminal homicide constitutes murder when it is committed purposely or knowingly, or committed recklessly under circumstances manifesting extreme indifference to the value of human life.

Malicious Abuse of Legal Process: Perversion of court process to accomplish some end which the process was not designed to accomplish, and does not arise from the regular use of process, even with ulterior motives. Intent is to secure ends other than those intended by law through willfull application of court process.

Monopoly: A privilege or peculiar advantage vested in one or more persons or companies, consisting in the exclusive right (or power) to carry on a particular business or trade, manufacture a particular article, or control the sale of the whole supply of a particular commodity. A form of market structure in which one or only a few firms dominate the total sales of a product or service; the two main elements of the Sherman Antitrust Act are: possession of monopoly power and willful acquisition or maintenance of that power, as distinguished from growth or development as a consequence of a superior product, business acumen, or historic accident.

Monopoly Power: That which must exist to establish a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The power to fix prices, to exclude competitors, or to control the market in the geographical area in question.

Monopolization: It is monopolization for persons to combine or conspire to acquire or maintain power to exclude competitors from any part of trade or commerce, provided they also have such power that they are able, as group, to exclude actual or potential competition, and provided they have intent and purpose to exercise that power.

Negligence: Omission which a reasonable person, guided by ordinary considerations which ordinarily regulate human affairs, would do, or the doing of something which a reasonable and prudent person would not do; conduct which falls below the standard established by law for the protection of others from unreasonable risk of harm.

Preponderance of evidence: Evidence which is of greater weight or more convincing than the evidence which is offered in opposition to it; it may not be determined by the number of witnesses, but by the greater weight of all evidence, the opportunity for knowledge, information possessed.

Willful Misconduct: Conduct committed with an intentional or reckless disregard for the safety of others, or with an intentional disregard of a duty necessary to the safety of another's property.
