Here is a short excerpt...

"It is important to realize that each time we innerly connect with the Source and add our infinitely powerful soul-driven contribution to global awakening through our own awakening to our Higher Self, we set the stage for the future existence of a planetary culture of spiritual communion with each other and with all Life on Earth and beyond. And at the same time, it is important also to realize that we are acting, in so doing, at the behest of our own future Selves connecting with us through the Omnipresent time continuum to enable what is to Be."

WHAT IS THE SHIFT?

Vidya Frazier, Guest - Waking Times - 21 February 2014

For thousands of years, humanity has inched its way toward greater spiritual maturity. Most human beings have been caught in the dense karmic energies of the earth plane, lifetime after lifetime, and have made very slow progress.

Only a few lone individuals from time to time have reached what's been called 'enlightenment' or liberation from suffering.

Although some of these individuals have stepped forward, bringing significant spiritual teachings to the planet, these teachings have inevitably been watered down into what have become religions—a process which has in many ways distorted and diluted the teachings.

A growing number of individuals in recent years have begun a conscious process of awakening. This has been significant in beginning to shift the consciousness of the planet; yet, still these numbers have been relatively small, considering the billions of people now alive on the earth.

A Great Shift toward Spiritual Awakening

However, a huge change is now underway, according to many visionaries, teachers and indigenous elders.

They're saying that for the first time ever on the earth, something monumental is shifting in the human experience as a whole: a shift of consciousness toward greater spiritual awakening.

Indeed, some are saying a new species of human being is emerging, and a new earth is being born.

This can be hard to believe if we simply focus on what's happening on the mainstream news: the same tired, negative scenarios that have always plagued the human race continue to play out over and over again. And yet, there is something else happening, as well, if you look closely.

The Outer Shift

Read alternative and international news sources and you can see clearly, for example, that unprecedented disclosure of corruption, greed and exploitation is occurring within a wide range of institutions in society.

In the last year, literally hundreds of top officials in financial institutions and governments the world over have been resigning, mysteriously disappearing, getting fired, being fined or taken to court.

Meanwhile, the internet is empowering and uniting people across the globe like never before in history. Millions are experiencing a sense of oneness and the power of this unification.

There's a new kind of joy and sense of jubilant freedom that people around the world are beginning to express.

At the same time, communities everywhere are creating positive changes in their local areas, over-turning old corrupt systems that no longer work. Women across the world are asserting their rights like never before in history. And science is discovering cheap, clean energy, as well as ways to feed everyone in the world and create drinking water from the ocean.

The 'In-Between Times'

It's clear that old societal structures and paradigms based on greed, competition and patriarchal ideals are at long last collapsing while new structures and paradigms based on justice, love and equality are arising in their place.

But what we're experiencing at this point is what has been called the 'In-Between Times'—times of chaos, confusion and rapid, intense changes while one age dies and another is born.

These tumultuous times will likely continue for a while, as the new positive energies interact with the old energies on their way out. But eventually a new earth will inevitably emerge out of the chaos. What an exciting time to be alive!

The Inner Shift

The same intense shifts happening in the world are also showing up in many of our personal lives. At times, we're being shaken to our core, as we experience old negative patterns arising with a vengeance, finally demanding resolution.

Loss assails us on many levels: in our relationships, our home life, our work. Old identities are disintegrating, and once-comfortable situations are becoming unbearable. We're stepping into unknown territory where nothing is predictable or certain.

It's disorienting and at times downright scary. And yet, along with all this confusion and loss, many of us are also experiencing profound spiritual awakenings like never before. Deep joy arises within us at the strangest times. Synchronicity abounds in our lives. An exquisite and all-embracing love is blossoming in our hearts for all of life.

At times, profound peace steals over us for no apparent reason. We feel the presence of a magnificent divine Self arising within us, gently nudging the ego aside. We know we're witnessing something new and ever so precious being born within us.

Dimensional Shift

There are some people who experience the shift as something so monumental that it feels like a dimensional shift—one the earth and all its inhabitants are making from the Third Dimension into the Fifth Dimension.

There's no Stopping It

Whatever we may call it or whatever paradigm we may hold it in, if we tune in, it's indisputable that something big is happening. Something new, something that has never before in history happened. Some people are feeling it now; others will eventually feel it.

But there's no stopping it. The sooner we can get on board and see it happening in our lives and align with the new energies coming in, the easier it's going to be to make the shift.

Synchromysticism

<http://synchromystic.wikia.com/wiki/Synchromysticism>

Synchromysticism is a portmanteau of the words "synchronicity" and "mysticism." A Synchronicity is a coincidence with meaning which is usually far less likely to occur naturally than typical coincidences.

An observance of synchronicity is often coupled with a recent moment of personal enlightenment or great insight. A shift in consciousness of perceived reality will usually determine ones ability to see an increased number of synchronicities.

The synchronomystic world-view is that every-Thing in the universe is connected. All symbols have multiple layers of information, histories, and interpretations. Given enough time and information, eventually all symbols, themes and ideas will be found to contain information about all the others so that each piece of the puzzle becomes holographic in nature; meaning that by focusing on one idea, all others can potentially be expressed. If one is familiar with the Eastern philosophic idea that 'all is One,' then synchronomysticism allows a person to prove it for themselves through active involvement with synchronicity not only in the media saturated world around them, but also in their personal lives. Synchronomysticism can be used to decode meaning in situations where that meaning may not have been implied or even originally intended. It has also been used by some in an attempt to foresee future events.

'Imagine a multidimensional spider's web in the early morning covered with dew drops. And every dew drop contains the reflection of all the other dew drops. And, in each reflected dew drop, the reflections of all the other dew drops in that reflection. And so ad infinitum. That is the Buddhist conception of the universe in an image.'

As once again important events of global significance occur and are misleadingly reported by the mainstream propaganda-parroting media, the following article may bring a measure of clear understanding as to some of the underpinnings of these events. They will eventually come to pass as a higher level of spiritual consciousness gradually asserts itself through decisions and actions that are more in line with the compassion and love-based values that go along with a heightened awareness of our true nature as One with All That Is.
