

PROBABILITIES & PREDICTIONS

During meditation, I've been given predictions of events to come by both Gaia, soul of the earth, and my own Guardian Angel, whom I named Theo, as he said our vocal chords are not constructed to pronounce angelic names. But I noticed that not only the predictions given to me, but to trance channels and psychics seemed to be hit and miss. In my case, some events would be within a day or two of the event—a major earthquake or say within a half-mile of the place I was told Katrina would make landfall. In other instances I would be way off, such as when I was told there would be a major earthquake in Japan around the first of September 2010 and it did not take place until March 2011. Then there were the times I would be told an event would take place, such as massive earthquakes in California the last week of December 2010, and nothing happened.

This was very frustrating, as I like to get things right. Naturally I questioned my reception, but when I'm told over and over again an event will occur, that possibility greatly lessens. So what was I missing? I started asking questions and continued to ask more.

Theo, please explain more about how our souls adjust or coincide with probabilities.

“Yes, a very complex equation we will call it Tom. As I have stated before, certainly you all do have soul contracts for these lives, but what we have not gotten into before is that these soul contracts are developed or created based on several potentialities which may or may not happen, so there is a soul contract you might say for each probability. So if one probability happens, it is but a slight adjustment from your soul point of view, as this was known prior to birth. So every probability is covered Tom, which is very complex when seen or viewed from a 3D standpoint, but is easily done from this side.”

So would you say this time period would have more probabilities than other time periods, the same, or less?

“Good question Tom. Yes, this time period—and we are speaking of the end of the 20th and the beginning of the 21st centuries has had a very large number of potentials—really more than at any time in thousands of years. You had every scenario from utter destruction to what you are living today, which was the very best scenario you and we could hope for. There was great rejoicing on this side when you were able to reach this benevolent time line potential.

“So to summarize, yes you are truly living in one of the most volatile times from a potentiality standpoint, with so many different paths you could have chosen, but here you are, ready in a little over a year to cross over to the 5th dimension. What a great path you as a people have chosen Tom.”

Weeks later I would ask, Theo, please explain in more detail about probabilities.

“Yes, a very deep subject that we will just touch on today. As you have seen with Gaia, there are probabilities to all events. It would seem that certain large events would have a high probability from the very beginning, but as you have seen and been told, this is not the case Tom. Your souls have many probabilities to consider at any time, and it all depends on many factors, such as the vibrational level the population is at when the time of a particular event arrives. Perhaps the event will pass by, as you have raised your level past what would have triggered the event. Certainly that happened when you had the Harmonic Convergence—the point where the world would have gone on to destroy itself had you not raised your vibrational levels above and passed on sailed by it.

“It’s the same thing with smaller events. But there are many other factors that enter into the probability equation. Are there enough souls that need to experience an event and what goal will the event achieve for these people and how will it affect others not directly affected? An event can affect the probabilities of literally thousands of other events in the future, and that may be the hardest point to explain.

“Yes, it is a little like the butterfly that is accidentally killed and the whole future of mankind is affected [Ray Bradbury story]. You have a great symbiotic relationship with the earth, with Gaia, and even with the whole universe. Everything is connected Tom. So what may seem on the surface a simple explanation of probabilities actually gets into quantum physics. So as a summary for now, there are thousands of possibilities that your souls must take into account before any major event occurs, and this is weighed according to your progress on a vibrational level.”

Below you will see probabilities in action for specific events.

2012 PREDICTIONS

JAPAN—Shortly after the first of the year an 8.0 or higher earthquake off the coast with a tsunami—smaller than the one before—but very destructive. It will cause the fault line running near Tokyo to move down the coast. Probability is 92%. Gaia says the souls in Japan have signed off already and there is just a small possibility of a delay, but she doesn’t think so. They will have more problems with their nuclear reactors.

PUERTO RICO—Shortly after Japan Puerto Rico will have a major earthquake although not the same strength as the one in Haiti. Probability is over 80%.

ITALY, GREECE, TURKEY—In 2012 Mt. Vesuvius will erupt and will cause earthquakes in the three countries in the 6.0 magnitude range, even extending over to the French Riviera with small movements there. Probability is 60% as Gaia is waiting for the approval of the souls living there, but she says she needs to release the pressure that has built up there.

CALIFORNIA—As I write this in September, Gaia says the probabilities for earthquakes there during the next six months are low—20% for Southern and Central California and 30% for Northern California. But when I asked about one year the probabilities rose to 40% for Southern and Central California and 50% for Northern California. She said for me to keep checking in every few months, as these probabilities will almost certainly rise.

GREAT LAKES EMPTY INTO THE GULF OF MEXICO—Probability of the New Madrid rupturing and causing the Great Lakes to empty into the Mississippi River and into the Gulf is 40% to 50% for the next year but rises to 50% to 60% in the next two to three years.

VIRGINIA—Another one or two quakes in this area coming soon--60% to 70% probability.

YELLOWSTONE VOLCANIC ERUPTION—The probability of this happening is still fairly low, according to Gaia—40% to 50% at this time, but she said she anticipates this increasing in the next few weeks and months and to check back with her.

ALASKA—Low probability of a 7.0 or higher earthquake for six months (from September) but 60% for one year with probability rising.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST—50% to 60% probability of a 7.0 earthquake in the next year rising to 55% to 65% in the next two years.

NORTH AMERICA WINTER—Gaia says it will be about the same as last winter—very stormy.

RECESSION—Will continue well into 2012, but will not be as deep as the previous one.

DROUGHT IN AFRICA—It will continue for “many more months” as there are soul contracts at work there.

RIOTS DURING THE NEXT ELECTION—Almost nil. The winner will be accepted and we’ll go on about our lives.

PRESIDENT ELECT—President Obama will be reelected. Probability at this time is 90%. It’s his “soul contract” to be president for eight years.

DECEMBER 21, 2012—Theo says this will be the date our souls have chosen to cross over to the 5th focus. Had we chosen August 1st as an example, he says that would have been the date. And there will be no one left behind. It’s as if we’re all on a cruise ship together with people on different decks, but we’ll all reach port at the same time.

FARTHER OUT

OCEAN LEVELS RISING—The world's ocean levels will rise two feet (61 cm) in the next four to five years. Gaia says it's already rising, but scientists are a little behind on that. Just look at the miles long icebergs breaking away from Greenland and Antarctica. This will prove disastrous for low-lying islands, port cities, and coastlines. Gaia wants people to move farther inland and is giving ample warning.

POST OFFICES—Within 25 years they will be gone. Mail will drop down to two days per week and then nothing.

PRINTED NEWSPAPERS—No printed newspapers within the next 10 years.

PAPER CHECKS—Gone within 5 to 7 years.

BOOKSTORES—Gone within 10 years. Don't invest in one!

EATING RED MEAT—This will be gone in 20 years, which considering we've been eating meat for thousands of years is really quite soon.

EATING FISH AND FOWL—We will cease to eat fish and fowl several years after red meat.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL—Will fade away in 40 to 50 years due to families not allowing their children to participate because of potential injuries and the "mellowing" of the public, which will not enjoy watching violent sports.

FOOD AND WATER MACHINES—Not sure how far out but we will develop these machines creating food and water for the Martian and other colonies.

EXTRA TERRESTRIAL FIRST PUBLIC CONTACT—The Pleiadians will make first public contact in Europe in 2015. I'm told that if it were the USA everyone would think it was "Invasion L.A." and would arm themselves. Contact will probably be with the European country that releases their confidential files somewhere around 2013 or so.

NO PARTY SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT—10 to 15 years. People will be elected to serve their constituents—not a party.

COLUMBIA—It will be another five years before new leaders rid the country of corruption.

MEXICO—It will be 25 years before they achieve an equal standard of living of their neighbors to the north. The legalization of drugs in the United States will begin the diminishing of power the drug gangs hold over elected officials. Sixty percent of the drug cartels' earnings come just from marijuana.

I will be rechecking in the coming months to see if these probabilities increase, decrease, or stay the same. Stay tuned and have a great 2012 everyone!
