

#9 ORION TRANSMISSIONS 2011

December 12, 2011

Dear family,

Hello everyone. We returned from a whirlwind visit to U.S. on November 15, having spent a lot of time with Baltimore Homa Community, an urban collective of people from all ages, cultures and backgrounds who practice Homa Therapy in their own homes. It is an interesting community in that they do not live together on one piece of land. They come together for celebrations, fires, music, outreach and Homa Organic gardening. It is an intentional community in an urban setting.

We had meetings on communication, on Youth involvement, as well as finding land for a Baltimore Homa farm, the newest project. It was a full-on trip, peppered with visits to my parents living nearby.

Now, we returned to a fever pitch pace here in Poland. I was expecting a quiet hibernation time, as I love winter for just that reason. However, the phones have not stopped ringing. We visited one of Poland's sacred mountains where we did an activation and met with a group of enthusiastic people there. Tentative plans for 108 Agnihotras to be performed on that mountain on Spring Equinox have been hatched as a result of that meeting.

These transmissions run the gamut between living your true life's work to the threat of deadly Chemtrails, from practice of forgiveness and the art of service, to the message of caution to those addicted to conspiracy theories. So, there is 'something for everyone!'

We are working on our Centre of Light plans and appreciate the donations which have started to come. We are very grateful. We've decided to call the new centre "Ark of Fire, Centre of Light." More information will soon be uploaded on our websites listed below and on Facebook. Already architectural plans have been submitted and we hope to break ground in Spring.

There should be another set of transmissions sent before the New Year. In case not, we wish all of you a blessed Holiday season and a Joyous Peaceful New Year.

#9 ORION TRANSMISSIONS 2011

November 1, 2011 On Judgment, Acceptance and Forgiveness

Yes, yes. Dear ones, there are those who will try your patience, test your tolerance, those who will appear impossible to heal. Accept them as they are. Do not fall into the trap of judgment. Judgment creates denial. A being's actions can trigger judgment from all others. Do not be one of those. Stand aside from the matter. Step away from the being in question. Walk away if you need to in order to distance yourself, in order to think and feel clearly. Then, utilize the gift of breath, the power of Mantra, prayer or silence with intent to heal. In this climate, judgment cannot survive. In this moist soil, acceptance is born.

When you accept another being without judging them, suddenly your heart opens. Yours is not the only heart that is affected by this action. Others who have tended to judge will also find themselves less able to do so when your lips are still. Then, the being in recipient of all the adverse reactions, even if seemingly deserved, will feel this lack of judgment as well.

Speaking about a troubled or disruptive person in order to more clearly understand his or her motives can be constructive or destructive. If the discussion involves feelings in need of being expressed and judgment is not anywhere near, when one's intent is clearly, simply to understand—it is fine. It is when it spills over into judgment that it no longer helps to heal the person or the situation, and one should be aware of it.

Acceptance does not mean one must tolerate abuse from others, nor does it indicate the situation need not be changed. Acceptance enables one to make clear decisions on how to proceed. Even if one's decision will be to separate from the offending other, it will be done with Grace. Without judgment, one can see with clear vision. That is all.

Healing takes many forms. At times it may require strong, assertive action. All actions can be done with acceptance. Acceptance opens the door to and results in Forgiveness.

Again, FORGIVENESS does not indicate or predicate a specific action. One can even ban another from contact if the abuse calls for such action, and yet remain accepting and forgiving. This is the mark of the open heart. And this is always HEALING.

On Service

Yes, yes. Attention. Attention. Where one puts one's attention is what will flourish. If one's attention is garnered by the minute details of day-to-day affairs, it is one's day-to-day reality which will flourish. One's daily maintenance will run more smoothly.

If one places more significance on one's spiritual development, it will accelerate. One will likely come to clear realizations and develop a calmer manner in life.

If one's focus of attention is on SERVING in every aspect of life, every aspect of one's life will be activated. Service encompasses all—the day-to-day demands of everyday life, as well as the spiritual self-development.

SERVICE is the key to a balanced life enriched with love, compassion and understanding. Through service, one begins to make sense of the madness. One can decipher the code of a joyful life. One begins to feel fulfilled.

November 7, 2011 On Renewal, Regrouping, Reunion and Recharging

Yes, yes. This is the time of the 'great return.' It is a time for renewal, regrouping, a time of reunion and recharging. These past years, there has been a period of shifting into position. Many Light Workers on this planet have been moving from one place to the other, finding and settling into their homes. There are still those seeking their places, but you are now moving into a period when you will be fortifying yourselves and preparing for the changes by securing and developing infrastructures to assist you in the coming times.

It is as if for years you have searched for your home and now, having found it, you are settling in to plant your gardens, nurture soil and soul and UNITE.

It is also a time for some who are already in place for a weeding of interpersonal spaces—relationships, networks, even families. This is a time when those who no longer fit may depart, leaving an empty space to be filled by a new being in the field of Light Work. It is a time when communities will shuffle their members and draw in new beings who immediately connect with the whole, as if they have long been one with all of you.

In the process of letting go of the old and welcoming the new, it is of vital importance to let go and to welcome with love. Let there be no 'hard' feelings to eventually become resentments. Let there be no factions. Instead, let there be a gentle, loving release of those no longer needing to be a part of the group. Sometimes, when one being moves out, there is a tendency to call him or her back. Instead, allow for their return, should they decide to return, but allow them the space to decide. It is an honouring and blessing of that human being's gifts and of their free will.

November 8, 2011 On Weathering Storms with Grace

Yes. As the world is in a state of flux, all human beings carry a part of that in them. If one's spiritual practices are firmly rooted in one's soul, one will weather the storms with Grace. One will learn ways to increase one's efficiency levels, and at the same time maintain one's equilibrium without missing a beat. When the storm hits, it is best to stay inside. Thus, when the chaos in the world increases, it is best to go within.

Create and maintain oases in the storm—in particular, Homa Organic Farms where you can grow larger quantities of vegetables, grains, and maintain fruit trees, bees and cows. It will be more and more difficult to grow food in any other manner. At these sacred places, many will come to seek refuge.

November 10, 2011 On Adversity testing Spirit

(This subject came up directly from hearing my father's tales of war. Even in terrible circumstances, he continually chose kindness in action.)

Yes, yes. War does terrible injustice, not only to the 'enemy' but also to those fighting against them! In case of your father, it brought out his true nature, that of a kind, loving human being. When one chooses to stay true to one's core beliefs, one's spirit is fortified.

It is in periods of great adversity in life that one's spirit is tested. Always stay true to yourselves, dear brothers and sisters. It is all you know. When that spirit is attuned to Higher Will, all actions stem from DIVINE. That is when the life you lead and the beings you have become radiate Light in the darkness of the world. Light heals.

November 13, 2011 On Training Leaders of Tomorrow

Yes, assist the young ones coming up, with their skills management. As they move into jobs similar to yours—teaching, social work, even business—help them maneuver through the ropes. You, who are moving into the role of elders in your communities, offer your help, your experience, your ideas, your wisdom. The new ones march bravely into fields of service. Show them the way. Help them to trust in and rely on their intuitive faculties. Help them trust their new-found realizations which will make up their resources and help them become who they will become.

Some will ask. Others will not.

You, offer.

You, welcome.

You, provide their support.

If there are enough young people in service roles, perhaps gather them for support. Help them to form their network, which will strengthen and sharpen their abilities and provide a compass for their direction. Children, youth are the leaders of tomorrow—well worth your energy and time.

November 17, 2011 On One's True Life's Work

Yes, yes. The concept of being engaged in one's true life's work is actually quite astounding. In a world full of life-altering events, global catastrophes, environmental hazardous influences and material madness, just the thought of focusing on a Higher goal is a breakthrough for the human mind! To focus on one's higher purpose, one's Divine vocation, if you will, and manifest the goals into tangible reality is quite an accomplishment by any standards.

Of course, even when fulfilling one's true mission in life, there are obstructions and delays, which may appear to block one's way. Overcome them. Stay focused on the path, which 'they' have chosen for you. It is always such. You think the path you choose is of your own choosing and, in essence, you do have a say in it—but when fulfilling your true walk in life, there is a greater Hand in it. It is in surrendering to the Higher Will that one's life takes on a sheen otherwise unseen. One begins to 'glow in the dark' and become the Light it seeks.

One needs daily reminders. Put a point of focus to your prayers and meditations. Make them your song of praise.

November 19, 2011 On Exposing Chemtrails and Fortifying with Agnihotra Ash

Yes, yes. Headaches may be the immediate reaction to Chemtrail spraying. Certainly you can see the effects on atmosphere immediately. Otherwise clear skies and sunshine are replaced by heavy clouding and dull, lifeless weather fronts. It is a deliberate misuse of power to anesthetize and contain a population. Join forces with those exposing these negative effect-producing chemical sprays worldwide. This also adversely affects farming.

Now, Agnihotra and the various fires being performed, particularly at Centres of Fire and Homa Organic Farms, will have a protective effect on the land and the beings present on it. At the same time, we recommend doing more fires (i.e. Yajnya) on the days you notice heavy spraying and a few days following. Also, ingest pure Agnihotra Ash often on the spraying days and the few days following. When you take this miraculous healing substance, it creates a protective film which shields you, particularly from radiation and even the chemicals being sprayed upon you.

You will all be well here. Even the land is protected. Increase the fires at this time.

At every Homa farm or Homa Centre, it would behoove you to increase your fires daily, particularly during the times when Chemtrails are being heavily sprayed. Even if, on those days, you begin to increase your Yajnyas by 1-2 hours, it will help. On the days when the spraying is intense, increase the fires and for a few days following keep up that increase. That is, by adding 1-2 hours on those days, it will benefit and protect more.

The spraying will have its effects on farming, on mental state and physical state of humans and animals. At places of intensified Homa energy, there will be much less effects. On those days, perhaps do not be outside as often, though taking Agnihotra ash orally will protect quite effectively. Work to expose this criminal activity. It goes against human rights. Speak out against the tyranny.

Expose the truth about 'Chemtrails.' It will be interesting to note that the more they are questioned and brought to the attention of the public via any media source, the less spraying you will see. With no public outcry or even articles exposing their existence, the easier it is for Chemtrails to cover the skies. Speak out. Educate. Do not wait. The deleterious effects of the chemicals being foisted upon Nature and human beings, not to mention all living beings, are not yet measured.

Take Agnihotra Ash regularly. Best that Agnihotra ash be from fires which were performed to precise sunrise-sunset timings—ideal from the healing temple where silence is kept. Atmosphere is more pristine and the one who performs must have had bath prior to the time. Therefore, all variables are controlled and resultant ash is more pure.

If you are performing Agnihotra in your own homes and wish to make use of the resultant ash for medicinal purposes, best to take a shower/bath before sunrise or sunset and see that all materials are correct and times are accurate. Then, your ash will certainly be healing.

Remember about scattering Ash over the fields. This can be Agnihotra or Yajnya ash. Increase the Agnihotra fires. Increase the Yajnya. Daily five hours would be best solution. (Note: At our Homa farm, in addition to sunrise & sunset Agnihotra, until recently we performed 4 hours daily Om Tryambakam Yajnya. We have since increased it to 5 hours. This primarily applies to Homa Centres or Homa farms.)

On Homeschooling

Yes, yes. The homeschooling will soon become more popular in the face of climate change, environmental challenges, and the refocusing of values, skills development, and the future of humanity in a state of flux. Meet about this. OM.

November 20, 2011 On Sacred Mantra

Yes, yes. There are certain Mantras which assist in maintaining one's own vibrations without becoming derailed by sensory overload. One such Mantra is Gayatri Mantra. Repetition of this sacred Mantra offers protection.

November 21, 2011 On the U.S.A.

Yes, yes, yes. Indeed, dear vehicle, the trip to U.S. was quite a profound one on many levels and for many individuals. Reliance upon direction at this point is important to take into account, as the environmental and socioeconomic distractions and attractions of U.S. are rather debilitating in terms of spirit. What you offer is a link to the spirit.

Write more, dear vehicle. More articles, more pieces for the ones whom you serve. They require reminders, as they are in the field of battle daily. In addition to the outside stimuli which are far greater in U.S. than here, there is a constant bombardment over the airwaves of subtle messages which steer one away from one's true goals. To remain a true servant of the Divine while fully involved with the outer, material world is a difficult task to attain and to maintain. Thus, assist those with greater pulls on their attention. Remain focused and clear in mind, so to be better able to assist the rest.

On Conspiracy Theories

Yes, yes, yes. Most certainly, if one puts one's mind to it, one can discover or uncover conspiracies beneath conspiracies. There is no end to it. So, now what? You discover there is mischief afoot, you become aware of what does not immediately meet the eye. What do you do with your realizations? As far as we can see, it appears to become a game more of entertainment than a way to serve the populace. One then focuses all one's attention and abilities on investigating conspiracy theories—real, imagined or fabricated. One ceases to employ one's greatest skills to serve humanity. Instead, one remains glued to the dark corner of Internet where conspiracies spin out of control.

We are not suggesting turning away from truth, nor are we championing the naïve and gullible acceptance of all written and spoken words as truth. We are strongly suggesting human beings be aware of the Truth, read between the lines, know there is deception, but do not allow it to enthrall or discourage you. Know thy enemy, but remain strong in your convictions. Move forward with the blessings you have been given. Sharpen your tools, trust your intuition and gather as One in the march to the Light.

Dear ones, don't waste time and energy on conspiracy theories. This ties up, binds your energy, so that you, as a Light Worker, are less effective in your own work.

What is it that is your higher calling in this life? Once you know what that is, put all your energy into it. If, as yet, you do not know with certainty what is your higher purpose, do not rest until you do. Expending precious energy on conspiracy theories and the mire of 'malintent' is not, certainly not, your higher purpose in life. SEEK TRUTH, NOT FALSEHOOD. OM.

November 24, 2011 On Underground Secret Tunnels

Yes, yes. More evidence of the secret tunnels in the region. There is always more than meets the eye and certainly more than reaches the media! In any case, you are all on protected terrain. You bear within you your Master's blessings which, in simple terms, places your life in His Hands.

There are civilizations which lived underground in ancient times. Some of them remain undiscovered and some remain in operation to this day.

In Krakow, there is a series of underground chambers which connect all throughout what is now referred to as 'Old Town.' These chambers can be quite useful in times to come.

On Honouring, Releasing and Healing the Past

When a people are torn from their roots involuntarily, as in case of war, as in case of enforced slavery or other acts of tyranny, there is an effect as what occurs in removing a limb from a body. That limb, that branch of culture, that uprooted root system, remains as if it were a ghost, an invisible existence, a phantom. Humans who have endured such an experience during war or otherwise, bear a longing for and hunger for what their soul knows as truth.

Ancestors who came before and experienced such profound loss as a shock to their systems pass on that profound loss to living relatives through the ages. Resolution is more possible now than at any other time in history.

Capabilities to see the past and to heal it are greater now. In essence, this was part of what you and your team did during both the Civil War cleansings in U.S. and the World War II concentration camp cleansings in Poland. What was done was on a collective level, though some who participated in the travels healed individually. When a collective healing occurs, a wounded people can begin to pick up, release the pain and move on. (Note: This refers to a series of cleansings of Civil War sites in U.S. and of WWII camp cleansings in Poland which are detailed in previous Orion Transmissions).

The greatest healing comes in FORGIVENESS. When all is brought to a peaceful state and the pain and suffering of your ancestors is relieved, the cycle is broken, the doors opened for the great release of the wounded souls and truly, you are FREE.

In honour of those who came before, in honour of those who presently heal themselves, and in honour of the children who no longer will carry the pain of the past and will instead be the healers of the future—we bow our heads. Yes, yes, in reverence to the majestic human spirit, collective and individual. OM.

December 2, 2011 On Fundraising for Centre of Light

Yes, yes, yes. At last, the fundraising begins for the Centre of Light. It is 'all systems go' now. There are great many obstacles and delays in the world now, in every aspect. However, we do not foresee any such obstacles to Divine Will being fulfilled at this sacred site. Be patient. There are peaks and valleys in every endeavor.

This building will benefit every single living being on this farm and become a much-needed venue to house workshops, classes, gatherings and celebrations in future. As well, the presence of these Higher Energy bodies will bring more attention to this sacred site, as yet relatively unknown. OM.

December 3, 2011 On Rising Above Conspiracy Theories

Yes, yes, yes. There are those among you who are enamored by the great variety of conspiracy theories being paraded across the Internet. It is taking its toll on your energy availability for service to humanity, dear ones.

While shocking revelations can be had, there is also a gray area where half-truths become touted as truth, and the mind becomes embroiled in deciphering the code, unraveling the mystery.

It is good to be aware of the 'powers that be' in this world, and to guard against being duped into believing political rhetoric, no matter how gallantly it is clothed.

And yes, there are layers upon layers of deception creating misconception, revealing corruption warranting your protection. Still, do not believe all that you read. There is a lot of truth, but there are great spinners of tall tales as well, in all areas.

Be aware that all media is concerned to a certain degree. Freedom is certainly fast becoming 'just another word for nothing left to lose.' But the loss of freedom is also a reality.

We plead with all of you who work in Light or who are affiliated with Light Work—be aware. Choose where to expend your energies. If you put your heart into the work for which you have been groomed and trained, either by spirit or by matter, your focus will automatically become crystal clear. The fog of mental ‘abjectivity’ will pass. You will move forward in the great abundance of Light Workers, ready to interconnect and be a part of the greater network of souls moving in unison toward the Light. All doubts will evaporate.

Train your mind to look beyond what appears, but do not allow this great mental faculty to become immersed in entertaining mystery conspiracies. What is present and evolving into being is so much greater.

Embrace the future as it unfolds.

Be at one with all living beings. Be at one.

And be here now—feet firm on the ground, hearts open to the Light, arms widely stretched to receive the blessings which are coming to be received.

Keep your eyes open wide.

Be ready. Yes, yes, yes.
