Tip of the Week:

Mars in Cancer is synchronistically wielding the sword of Shiva this time. The disastrous fires in Los Angeles have already added to the long list of catastrophes in the United States alone, which are just a fraction of the global count.

Destruction is always occurring somewhere and always has. Some call it the scorns of Satan. The more suspicious assert that it is specifically supported by the nefarious forces of unscrupulous ambition. Others assert it is the wrath of Mother Nature violated by the toxicity of modern industrialism and technology, though nature has always been the greatest inexorable force of destructive power and always will be. Of one thing we can be certain, destruction and death are features of the very fabric of life; yet so too are birth, rebirth, beauty, joy, life, and love.

In this context, another truly historic week begins.

The inauguration of controversial President-Elect Donald Trump is slated for Monday, January 20. Many do not simply dislike D.J.T., they are literally terrified of him. Trump's Sun in Gemini closely conjunct Uranus in his Birth Chart indicates that he is a revolutionary and controversial figure, a real shaker, true to the symbolism of Uranus.

Interestingly, the ceremony occurs on the heels of the Sun entering Aquarius, and just a day prior to the Sun forming its first conjunction with Pluto in Aquarius, where it will be for 20 years! Thus, this first of 20 Sun/Pluto conjunctions, each of which can be expected to prove revolutionary, especially the first 7, begins now...

Weekly Horoscope:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 20)

A whole new set of waves of awakening and realization will begin to wash in this week. These are sure to stimulate your imagination as well. Some of your focus will be consequentially directed to the future. To this end, your thoughts will turn to practical matters as with obtaining tools, resources, and supplies.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 21)

Your public and professional life is about to get a boost of attention. Returns from previous efforts, hopefully good ones based on sincere diligence, are featured. Either way, these will activate a stealthy push forward. But avoid doing so with your head down lest you end up charging in where you wish you hadn't.

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

A broad spectrum of new visions and realizations is broadening your scope on reality. Some will be obvious while others are there yet may be delayed for a while before they come clearly into view. In the meantime, destiny is summoning you to share your visions and ideals of possibility.

Cancer (Jun 21 – Jul 22)

You have entered a period of purging, transformation, and regeneration. It could prove to be an excellent time to go on a special diet or an organ cleanse program. The focus could also be directed to simply clearing the clutter. Some attention could be directed to the careful consideration of long-term investments.

Leo (Jul 22 – Aug 23)

Extra attention on relationship fronts will become increasingly important this week and for the next several too. The focus will be shared with both your personal and your professional or public life in general. Change is a keyword and could include some measure of fame or notoriety, but possibly infamy too.

Virgo (Aug 23 – Sep 22)

Aquarius time tends to be extra impactful for you, stimulating a strong sense of future-oriented vision and activating you to strengthen your sense of security. A weave of philosophy and practicality is indicated, and will also support deepening your commitments. Topped with a creative drive, the time is right to advance.

Libra (Sep 22 – Oct 22)

Aquarius is directly associated with your sense of creative genius. Innovative plans and designs could begin to appear clearly in your mind's eye, perhaps even leading to original invention. While you are probably determined to remain practical in your approach, the future prospects are a source of excitement!

Scorpio (Oct 22 – Nov 21)

Aquarius time will have the effect of shaking your world, and close to home, for better or worse. Change is part of this plot and of the kind that looks favourable. Patience remains a keyword, so expect a steady flow versus a sudden payload. Maintaining a practical perspective is featured, emphasizing fortifying your foundations.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 – Dec 21)

Your sights have been firmly set on the future, yet will be even more so starting this week. Changes in your daily rhythm and routine, and perhaps affecting your overall lifestyle are in the script. Beautifying your world is an inspirational motivator, even if the reality of the steps required, seems a little daunting.

Capricorn (Dec 21 – Jan 19)

Whether due to inspiration, desperation, or instigation, the time has come to bring more attention to fortifying your overall foundation. Making investments is implied and they could prove significant. A whirlwind of imaginative thoughts and ideas are featured, yet you are determined to be realistic.

Aquarius (Jan 19 – Feb 19)

Your time in the Sun has arrived. This indicates a pioneering impulse. Some of your attention will be directed to your home, and could include new infrastructure and/or practical possessions. Guided by a blend of idealism and practicality, things are likely to get busier, if behind the scenes.

Pisces (Feb 19 – Mar 20)

While Aquarius time tends to be when you are happier to nip out of sight for a while, the opposite could prove to be true this year. With a steady flow of fresh thoughts and ideas to guide you, your sights are probably directed to realistic considerations going forward. With your confidence levels running high, the time is right to make some key moves.
