

Sun Star Weekly Horoscope for the Week of January 5

Tip of the Week:

Mars enters Capricorn, the sign where it is considered 'exalted' on January 4, joining forces with Sun and Pluto. This is a dynamic trio especially working together in the sign of the sturdy mountain goat.

However, Saturn in Pisces redirects the focus to the more spiritual expression of Capricorn symbolically depicted as the Sea Goat. So, the ground may not feel as solid as it would if Saturn was in a more tangible sign than mystical Pisces.

It coincides well with the fact that January is a Universal 9 month, the number of ending and completions.

The Moon this week; Although this is the beginning of the New Year, we are still in the Waning Moon cycle until January 11 when the first New Moon of the year occurs at 20 Capricorn 44. This supports a process of closing, consolidating, or completing things from last year and planning, preparing, and strategizing for 2024.

Have a great week,

Michael
