Tip of the Week:

On the heels of the rare Scorpio New Moon that occurred on November 20 (EST), the Sun enters the seasonal sign of Sagittarius today, on the 21st.

It is rare because Mercury Retrograde is exactly aligned with the Sun and Moon at 28 Scorpio 12.

The New Moon stellium is part of a Grand Trine in Water, which therefore 'pulls-in' the contributions of Venus in Scorpio, Jupiter in Cancer and Saturn and Neptune still closely aligned in Pisces add much emotional depth and 'psychological'... (water element) complexity.

That Uranus in Taurus (its fall sign) is also in direct opposition to the New Moon stellium and positioned at the apex of what is referred to as a Grand Kite configuration and at the critical 29th degree, (as is Neptune in Pisces and both also 'retrograde', which in terms of the far planets indicates social revolution), adds megatons of TNT, so to speak.

Altogether, what Uranus's special role indicates is a deep, secret or hidden desire (Venus in Scorpio) to blast through and bulldoze old structures (Uranus in Decant of Capricorn). This will occur at both collective and personal levels too.

This rather rare, triple conjunction (stellium) of Sun, Moon and Mercury, can be understood as the fuse... Since the New Moon is 'Cazimi' which basically translates to mean that in its apogee position from our geocentric position, it 'occupies the heart or center of the Sun'.

And since Mercury is metaphorically referred to as the 'Moon of the Sun' due to its moon-like characteristics, as with the 'ever-changing or moody flow of the mind' and which can also be Cazimi, due to its exact alignment with the Sun by longitude, it might well contribute to the generally auspicious amplification of the Cazimi Moon.

While the Sun and Moon are generally grouped along with the personal planets rendering their influences to seem smaller than that of the far planets, they literally constitute the very foundations of Astrology, respectively like Yang and Yin, male and female, king and queen... and they together serve to frame the entire backdrop of slower-moving planets within the context of the 29.5-day Lunation Cycle.

Living in tune with the Sun and Moon is a timeless ideal. While we need not live our life strictly by the Moon, nor would doing so be wise, it can help to work with it, a lot. For example, understanding the status of the Moon at any given moment serves to determine whether making certain important decisions is 'in alignment'. As well, observing its rhythmic 29.5-day cycle through the 12 signs and activated by each New Moon and its waxing and waning process, making multiple aspects to each planet and the Sun, every month, is relatively easy to learn, but is not common knowledge. Observing the synchronicities implies, however, transcends belief and becomes clear evidence of its influence.

So, I invite you to join me and friends in my Moon Cycle Club, which is scheduled to begin in late January 2026.

Horoscope for the Week:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 20)

The Sun in Sagittarius will boost your spirits and inspire adventure. Whether a journey to foreign lands, a venture into the wilds, or a fantastic voyage via the pages of a book, you will want to explore anyway you can. Mercury and Venus crossing paths could support creative thinking and clever schemes to realize your desires and dreams.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 21)

Some cycle urges you to go deep and wide, like this one. Whether these words prove literal or figurative, this is your cue to tune in and make it so. While paying lip service can seem false, sometimes flattery and other sweet sentiments can go a long way when the timing is right and directed at the right person. Make your heart's desires known.

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

With expansion comes push, and it is time for both. Broadening your horizons, mind, and/or social circle is the call now. This could require shaking things up, or even stirring the pot, as the saying goes, to evoke attention and be seen, heard and heeded. Yet, the emphasis is also on security, which can include making significant others feel safe as well.

Cancer (Jun 21 – Jul 22)

Comfortable, familiar, and secure is natural and can prove healthy too. However, along the way, destiny reveals that it is time to make some changes. While circumstances will certainly play a role, they are not the only cause. Balance is ever a keyword, and it generally describes the goal. The key is to realize that the balance point is always moving.

Leo (Jul 22 – Aug 23)

Sagittarius is the fun and games sign and could prove to be a fantastic lover too. The Sun joining Mars there will ignite your passions to weave a spirit of recreation. It could also manifest as the creative waves you have been awaiting. Either way, it is important to summon the faith, courage, and resolve to dive in deeply. Go big!

Virgo (Aug 23 – Sep 22)

It is not just home where your heart is; it includes family and friends too. Yet, it does ever remain that a key to happiness is to be your own best friend, balanced by empathy and compassion for others. This primary relationship includes being true to your values and principles and learning how to set healthy boundaries. All of the above are features of the art of living.

Libra (Sep 22 – Oct 22)

Sagittarius is like a sibling sign for you, or at least close and kissing cousins, for better or worse. It is also the sign associated with your destiny to learn true friendship. The focus now includes finances and creative investments, which might be more a matter of trust, respect, and commitment than money. P.S. Mercury retrograde is known for being a trickster so test your allies for their sincerity.

Scorpio (Oct 22 – Nov 21)

This New Moon in your sign is destined to activate a whole new cycle that could even include several phases reverberating with events that evoke new and life-changing perspectives. Sun and Mars in Sagittarius are inspiring the consideration of new priorities as well. Fortunately, Jupiter is well-placed to support confidence and success.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 – Dec 21)

Woot, woot, the Sun is in Sagittarius! That yours is the 9th Zodiac sign, and the last official month of the natural year cycle that ends and begins at Winter Solstice, is part of your mystery. Although it is darkest before the dawn, a deep faith in life and eternal renewal resides in your heart. Mars is already spurring you on to new adventures and will continue to, too.

Capricorn (Dec 21 – Jan 19)

For you, Sagittarius time often indicates a time of retreat. Yet, this does not mean you will not be busy. Inner work is indicated at this time and includes summoning the courage to be self-aware beyond the usual, and self-honest. Since increase and opportunity in relationships is indicated, focus to identify blind spots and clear blocks.

Aquarius (Jan 19 – Feb 19)

The professional push forward continues well into December, (at least until the December 4th Full Moon in Gemini), thanks to the lingering influence of the Scorpio New Moon, even though the Sun enters Sagittarius on November 21. Mercury is retrograde, which has tilted the slope against you somewhat, yet its conjunction with Venus on November 24 should prove helpful.

Pisces (Feb 19 – Mar 20)

This New Moon will have an impact on your career and/or social status in general. This influence may be deemed 'soft' because it indicates a preparatory phase. The bigger push will be activated by the Sagittarius New Moon in about a month. Mercury retrograde currently has been contributing a complex crosscurrent that will subside, if slowly starting next week.
