“Mercury turns retrograde in Sagittarius on November 9 until November 29. During this time, it will reverse from 6 Sagittarius 29 to 20 Scorpio 45, re-entering Scorpio on November 18. Then it will take until December 11 before Mercury re-enters Sagittarius again. This entire period could indeed prove stormy, generally speaking.” ~ Michael

Tip of the Week:

In the bigger background picture, Uranus re-enters Taurus on November 7 to begin the final stages of its almost 8-year journey through the sign of the Bull. It will retrograde to 27 Taurus 28 by February 3 and will then re-enter Gemini on April 25, 2026, transiting through the sign of the twins until early August 2032.

Since Uranus completes an orbit in 84 years, it transits each sign for an average of 7 years. However, due to its elliptical orbit and to turning retrograde, it can be some months more or less than the 7-year average since its entry on May 15, 2028.

As the sign of personal wealth, it should be quite apparent how much has changed in this regard since that time.

This 5.5-month cycle coincides with other major events, including Neptune re-entering Aries in late January and early February, respectively.

Since 2026 equates to a Universal 1-Year to begin a new 9-year cycle, we can be certain that all of these factors together will amount to a period of global change that will prove monumental.

Among the best ways to prepare is to increase your self-awareness and increase your determination to be aligned with your authentic self and destiny. I can help you in this regard.

Have a great week.

Horoscope for the Week:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 20)

The desire factor for you will increase measurably with Venus in Scorpio. Mercury and Mars in Sagittarius will amplify your determination to venture out. This is where things could get complicated, especially if jealousies are triggered, whether in you or in significant others. The overall dynamic is loaded, so enjoy the heat but be aware of the possible burn.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 21)

Temperatures are destined to rise on relationship fronts. Venus in Scorpio could fare especially well for you since it is in its power spot. Mars will contribute to the desire factor measurable, but could prove predatory if not reigned in. And with Mercury Rx, you could get lost amidst the flames, mesmerized by the excitement and allure of it all.

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

At some turns, the best way to manage things is to give more than usual. However, if you are already guilty of over-giving, then the opposite might prove true. In other words, more could imply increased effort directed at restraint. Mercury and Mars in Sagittarius will contribute an indelible twist to the plot, so you will have to be extra deliberate to be both honest and able to keep the peace.

Cancer (Jun 21 – Jul 22)

Passion is a big keyword currently, and it is amplified for you. Since passion can prove both highly fulfilling, yet deeply scarring as well, you are wise to make extra efforts to keep a firm grip on the reins. With both Mercury and Jupiter turning retrograde, and since both are powerfully placed for you, they could prove to be helpful allies.

Leo (Jul 22 – Aug 23)

Scorpio can be described as close to your heart. In some respects, it can be understood as reflective of who you are at a root level. What this implies is passion that can even prove hypnotic at times. The Sagittarius factor currently adds to this theme measurably, but due to their retrograde status, will contribute at least as much complexity.

Virgo (Aug 23 – Sep 22)

When physical sensitivity combines with emotional and intellectual sensitivity, the stage is set for a much deeper dive into matters than usual, and this is the case now. On one hand, you will yearn for more profound truths, while on the other, the greatest rewards could come from increased self-awareness and especially self-honesty.

Libra (Sep 22 – Oct 22)

Added interest in financial matters, and the prospect of sound investments is on your mind. Fortunately, Mercury Rx will work well for you, especially in the shorter term, supporting your interest in research and learning. When it re-enters Scorpio on November 18, the reverse could prove true, so do your homework now.

Scorpio (Oct 22 – Nov 21)

The Sun in your sign emphasizes the urge to take new leads and initiatives. With Venus there, you could find yourself dealing with powerful impulses, yet not necessarily based on sound reasoning. This is where Mercury can actually prove helpful, since in Sagittarius, it implies patience and restraints for you. Yet, Mars wants to go and Jupiter is eager to experience the future now.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 – Dec 21)

While the Scorpio factor pulls you inward, Mercury and Mars in your sign are activating your pioneering spirit. Jupiter meanwhile, is positioned to synchronize with returns for past efforts. This is where your actions over the past decade were integral or manipulative, is revealed. Altogether, these factors will produce revelations of truth.

Capricorn (Dec 21 – Jan 19)

Scorpio time brings extra emphasis to deciphering more fully and deeply who you are as an individual beyond outer realities and social status. The strong Sagittarius factor currently stands to increase your interest and determination to increase your capacity for self-honesty. However, it could also lead you to want to escape. Either way, silence is golden.

Aquarius (Jan 19 – Feb 19)

Scorpio time is one during which you feel added determination to advance your position in the world. Venus there brings emphasis to acquiring or investing into new skills, tools, and strategies. The contributions of Sagittarius meanwhile, are directing you to look to the future. Uranus in Taurus encourages you to prepare and gather.

Pisces (Feb 19 – Mar 20)

Scorpio for you is associated with the quest for deeper truths. These are directly associated with the realities of human psychology and relationships. The psychological part emphasizes the subjectivity of perception and the mystery of projection, while our relationships reveal the reflection. Focus on loving the projector (you) to experience the same in the reflections.
