"I had a relationship reading 2 years ago, and now I am thinking how accurate you were to see the relationship for what it was and to see each of us so clearly. Thank you for your reading." ~ Hyegwi

Tip of the Week:

That Valentine's Day occurs while the Sun is in Aquarius and most of the world's populations are still firmly in the grip of winter, is a little odd. Yet, the Sun is in the 3rd Decant of Aquarius, which is Libra - the sign of relationship dynamics, including harmony, fairness, and balance.

Venus currently in fiery Aries, Mars in sentimental Cancer, and Mercury in Poetic Pisces are collaborating to support exchanges of adoration, appreciation, and love.

The 'chemistry' between two people is quite an obvious reality, and it can be measured with Astrology with remarkable precision and accuracy. This technique is referred to as Synastry. As the story goes, just because there is good chemistry it does not mean a couple have the destiny to be or stay together. This is where another technique called Composites comes to the fore as it effectively measures the 'deeper purpose' (Composite) of a relationship.

Further, the Composite Chart can be Progressed to reveal where that purpose is at any given time from a cyclic perspective.

Of course, you do not have to be in a 'love' relationship. However, the more committed the relationship, the more the themes revealed come into play and can be recognized.

My new blog, Relationship Astrology explores the realities of relationship dynamics through the lens of Astrology more fully.

Weekly Horoscope:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 20)

You are bound and determined to advance your position. Venus in your sign these past couple of weeks is leading the charge. Yet, all the while, Mars retrograde in Cancer is shifting into even lower gear, effectively increasing its gravity and torque. Combined with other factors, this implies the need to attend to clearing the old before you rebuild.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 21)

Your hopes and dreams for the future are extra activated these days. The uncertainties of our times are part of the challenge, yet you do appreciate that change invites opportunity. Your focus includes aspirations to think deeply, to sound the depths of your heart to determine what is truly worthy of your time, and to devise a realistic, strategic plan.

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

The creative and inventive impulse of Aquarius shines brightly for you. In these final days of it, seize the opportunity to break out of habitual perspectives and give access to some ‘out of the box’ time. Imagination is a keyword and it happens to be a central feature of the “duty of your destiny”. This includes harnessing it, but not allowing it to harness you.

Cancer (Jun 21 – Jul 22)

The deep dive cycle that Aquarius implies for you can be described as ‘clearing the clutter’. Other words include cleaning, cleansing, purging, or eliminating altogether, all for the purpose of supporting inspired and visionary access to new possibilities. Although Mars remains retrograde, producing detours in your drive, use it to get into the corners.

Leo (Jul 22 – Aug 23)

Aquarius is your polar opposite sign, and the one directly associated with your relationship destiny. Its destined role is to help you to both see things from different angles and other people’s point of view, and to learn the importance of detachment to counterbalance an otherwise subjective, obsessive, and passionate impulse.

Awareness is the key to balance.

Virgo (Aug 23 – Sep 22)

Those who know you well recognize a radical tendency in your nature. Not that it is bad, per se', yet it does need to be well-directed to be useful. Otherwise, it tends to produce a cold, cerebral, sometimes harsh, and often indifferent approach. With Mars retrograde, you could still be in the dreaming phase, yet the resolve to be more deliberate is fast approaching.

Libra (Sep 22 – Oct 22)

Lucky you, sexy Aquarius occupies the lover position in your chart. It indicates that verbal stimulation can be a real turn-on, especially when it includes high-minded perspectives about subjects you are passionate about. Yet, while you are about action, Aquarius can happily hover in intellectual exchange, and it is left to you to take the lead regarding desired directions.

Scorpio (Oct 22 – Nov 21)

You know that quirky side of you that is hard to hide..., well that is your Aquarius. Yes, we each really are a composite of all the signs, yet certain ones tend to be more prominent than others. Ironically, despite your preference to be secretive and discreet, your Aquarius is pouring out 24/7 for all to see. Don't worry, a little strangeness can prove... stimulating.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 – Dec 21)

While your sights are set on the future, your focus includes where you call home. If it is where your heart is, literally, then you have achieved the Sagittarius badge of freedom, and wherever you go, there you are. Yet, it remains that letting go of what has been and surrendering to the flow are features of this freedom.

Capricorn (Dec 21 – Jan 19)

Building for the future is an especially important theme currently. With Venus in Aries, the key is to get inspired by the prospects of beautifying your home. Renovation efforts are indicated and are likely over the next couple of months, but maybe longer. Mercury in Aries in March will prove extra helpful in this regard.

Aquarius (Jan 19 – Feb 19)

The Sun in your sign indicates a time for taking initiatives. Other factors indicate creative projects. Extra efforts will be required, and it may take a while for the momentum to build, and February could prove slow going, but the pace will accelerate noticeably in March. Jupiter in Gemini will provide the inspiration to enjoy the creative process.

Pisces (Feb 19 – Mar 20)

The pace is probably slower than usual, currently. The month before the Sun enters our sign can be like that, and then there are other factors. Ironically, while Mercury in Pisces as of February 14 can prove blurry for many, like trying to see underwater, it stands to work in your favor. Jupiter now direct is pushing you to expand in your career yet you may need to feel inspired.
