"Thanks so much for the reading, synastry reading and the book. I really appreciated your insights and collective information for future vocational path unfolding along with the chart compatibility with us. It's wonderful to have some clarity amidst the challenges this past year. It's grounding to have supportive focus and your guidance with regards to timing and cosmic influences. In gratitude, Kevin" ~ Kevin

Tip of the Week:

Last week's March 29 Solar Eclipse at 9 Aries is doing what it is destined to, so the initial signs should already be present, although sometimes there are delays and these can require weeks to fully show their purpose, but not months. Activations of fresh starts, initiatives, and sometimes sharp turns are experienced. These invariably lead to new experiences and resistance is futile. Cooperation is ever the key.

Neptune in Aries is the other hot topic of late, but it will more fully come into force next year, due to it turning retrograde this summer. So, its effects will be preliminary, yet they could prove noticeable enough if you happen to have Natal or Progressed planets up to 2 degrees of any sign.

If so, since Neptune will turn retrograde on July 4, you will experience a triple pass, meaning whatever Neptune is destined to dissolve, it will do so significantly between now and late January 2026.

All the while, Mercury has been retrograding in Pisces, the focus of which has been blurred by so much other excitement. Anyway, Mercury turns direct on April 7 and will enter Aries on the 15th, which will turn up the heat considerably, especially when Mars enters Leo on April 17.

In this regard, the heated, highly polarized Canadian Federal Election, for example, will be decided. Unless you feel called to get embroiled in dramatic events, whether personal, political, or social, it will prove wise to exercise a surrendered perspective of faith in the process and steer clear of histrionic types who assume they see reality as it is.

Have a great week,

Michael

Weekly Horoscope:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 20)

Despite all this Aries energy, you are still dealing with your fair share of Pisces. Positively, this suggests that you are realizing your dreams. Negatively, you could feel trapped in an unpleasant dream from which you cannot awaken. Either way, the fire levels will increase steadily this month supporting the same in your energy and enthusiasm.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 21)

Are you aware that transiting planets spend twice as long in the House/Sign duo for you? Mars in Cancer for example, is followed by its transit through the 4th House, which can be described as the House of Cancer. Altogether, it can be said that divine design granted you greater staying power, and double the time to get things done, slow but sure...

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

The strong Aries impulse emphasizes your sense of individuality. It could also manifest as friends progressively leaving the stage. But don't worry, that process only really gets going next year and then will continue slowly for 13 more. Meanwhile, the Pisces factor is pushing you to integrate new levels of discipline, combined with the paradoxical wisdom of surrender.

Cancer (Jun 21 – Jul 22)

The strong Aries influences are destined to manifest in your public and professional life. With Mars in your signs since last fall, but especially since January, you have been taking pioneering leads, or at least forging ahead with longer-term commitments from the past, perhaps assertively, or even aggressively at times. Your time to cash in is fast approaching.

Leo (Jul 22 – Aug 23)

Aries can be described as your philosophical and visionary sign. For you, that largely amounts to taking action. It also indicates that the relationship with your own soul is the foundation of your spiritual aspirations. In turn, this implies intuitive access and creative inspiration combined. In these regards, the clarion call of new visions is piercing the airwaves, now.

Virgo (Aug 23 – Sep 22)

Everyone is contending with a complex cross-weave of dynamics currently, not least of all you. Deepening bonds on both personal and professional fronts is indicated. Yet so too does this deeper intimacy include the relationship with yourself. You should be noticing desires for a stronger expression of your power potential, requiring self-honesty to access personal truth.

Libra (Sep 22 – Oct 22)

The recent eclipse was destined to activate or synchronize with important changes, especially new beginnings on relationship fronts. Positively, these will be the source of a steady stream of inspiration. The key in this regard is to surrender your heart in a spirit of deep commitment. Besides, any who are not destined will progressively vanish like snow under a spring sun.

Scorpio (Oct 22 – Nov 21)

The need to direct more attention to the overall quality of your daily routine and rhythm is in the spotlight. Adjusting and adapting with the changing times, along with your own seasons of life, is extra important. If you are unhappy with your job, this is also a strong indication that you are wise to pursue something that you feel is more authentically aligned.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 – Dec 21)

Aries is your creative sign and your lover. When combined, you could dive into creative projects that you love. In the short term, identify what beautiful means and looks like to you. You are probably wise to determine what you can do yourself, and what is perhaps better given to others. You will spring into action very soon now so dress for success, determined by the tasks required.

Capricorn (Dec 21 – Jan 19)

The recent Aries Eclipse is destined to activate you at a core level. Perhaps already you feel a restlessness, or perhaps even a warrior spirit to breakthrough and free. Perhaps the biggest issue is if significant others to whom you are tied do not feel the same way. This could be a source of trouble. Let go of control and get inventive regarding what resources are available.

Aquarius (Jan 19 – Feb 19)

Aries in your horoscope is directly associated with your mode of perspective and how you interpret the world and others. This recent activation will push you to the next level of sharpening your focus, to cut through illusions, delusions, and confusions. Determining what power you have and how to best leverage it is featured, if only to clearly understand.

Pisces (Feb 19 – Mar 20)

The strong Arian energies are doubly compounded for you. These could have an influence on your finances so you might have to get extra creative. In the shorter term, get clear on what is and is not your business. Avoid spending undue time and energy on matters beyond your sphere of influence. A willingness to work a little harder might be required.
