"Hey Michael! I just thought I'd give you an update! It happened pretty much exactly like you said it would. Thanks for your insight and good direction in our lives again. Thank you!" ~ Tracy

Tip of the Week:

'Eclipse Season' began with a critical 0-degree New Moon in Virgo on August 22/23, was followed by a Lunar Eclipse at 15 Pisces 23 on September 7, and now culminates as a Partial Solar Eclipse on September 21 at 29 Virgo 05.

Much has changed on the world stage since that first event, as the revolutions of evolution build momentum at this critical juncture of our times and human history in general.

The coming New Moon on September 21 (the day prior to Autumn Equinox) is the second of two in Virgo, but this one is at the critical 29th degree of Virgo, and is a Solar Eclipse, making it significantly more special, and impactful. Although it is a 'Partial Eclipse', this does not deter from the fact that it is an Eclipse and, therefore, qualifies as a true 'Super Moon'.

Since it is the 2nd of two in Virgo, it is destined to manifest as a continuation and amplification of the initial event of the Lunar Eclipse two weeks ago, which can be understood as the 'warm-up' event to this one...

Horoscope for the Week:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 20)

Pushing for change and a fairer deal on relationship fronts is more than on your mind. As willing as you are to negotiate, you are not so inclined to compromise your sense of fairness and what you feel you need. Ideally, you will recognize the same desire in significant others and honor them equally, and with recognition that some changes take time.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 21)

Circumstances are pushing you to create a more balanced lifestyle that aligns with your destined needs and personal desires. Changes in public and professional status are also featured, and the push is to diversify your skills and talents somehow. You might even find interest in pursuing more than one direction, as with a side hustle, perhaps.

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

Beauty is divine, and you feel inspired to bring more of it into your life. This could include decorating, or renovating, or artistic expressions, or perhaps simply choosing to shift your perspective and attitude to see the beauty that already exists. Nature holds special appeal and the changing colors of nature associated with the season is a good start.

Cancer (Jun 21 – Jul 22)

Shifting the way we perceive things is often all the change that is needed. However, sometimes more literal action is required, and this is probably one of those times. The time is right to 'roll up your sleeves' and get down to the bottom of things. Clearing the clutter might be all that is needed, but it does appear that you have bigger plans.

Leo (Jul 22 – Aug 23)

Virgo plays a key role regarding your financial interests. Since it is an Earth element sign, you tend to be especially practical, yet with an emphasis on investments as well as savings. Many changes have occurred over the past couple of years or so in this regard, and now you are eager to tilt the scales again, in your favor.

Virgo (Aug 23 – Sep 22)

Activations towards new or at least fresh initiatives should be evident by now, but if not, they will be soon. You are in a proactive and determined mood to express yourself in ways you deem represent beauty, and you are interested in generating returns for your efforts. Fortunately, your confidence levels among friends or associated with groups is running strong.

Libra (Sep 22 – Oct 22)

The Lunar Eclipse likely had the effect of awakening you to the realization that you need to make some changes to genuinely get your needs met. Now, you feel that much more determined to do something about it. This could well include shaking things up somehow, guided by an assertive push, and perhaps one guided by revolutionary zeal.

Scorpio (Oct 22 – Nov 21)

Virgo tends to be a friendly sign for you and you yearn for more such connections. Cultural interests are also featured, supporting shared values and experiences. You may have some inner work to do, some soul searching, however, regarding what you truly value and want. Natural environments will probably hold extra appeal.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 – Dec 21)

Virgo is closely associated with your public and professional life – call it the conservative side of an otherwise wild streak, true of your centaur nature. You yearn for a better balance but realize that it will not happen unless you shake-it-up somehow. Keeping an open mind regarding the possibilities, and your approach is advised and could be supported by second opinions.

Capricorn (Dec 21 – Jan 19)

Virgo can be credited with supporting your ability to pay attention to the details of the bigger picture. Like a telescope, it allows you to zero in on the bigger story. Acquiring and/or sharing knowledge and instruction related to needed skills and actions is indicated. Expect that you will be making measured changes to how you get things done.

Aquarius (Jan 19 – Feb 19)

Like a geologist examining the rock and mineral deposits in a deep cavern, you are eager to gain precise knowledge of the subtle reaches of things associated with key investments. You are willing to venture some risks, if carefully calculated ones, but you want other inputs, perhaps something of a round table discussion or at least intelligent exchanges.

Pisces (Feb 19 – Mar 20)

Life is all about relationships and there are indications that yours are destined for change. These could amount to practical improvements combined with creative opportunities. Ambitions for realistic returns is part of the plot. You should be ready to do homework, however, including research. The balancing of accounts is featured.
